Want A Stress-Free Wedding? Use These Tips

Instead of elaborate and pricy floral arrangements, consider placing various potted plants around the ceremony and the reception venues. Colorful pots can be decorated with paint, ribbon, or decoupage to make the arrangements even more lively. You can offer the potted plants as wedding favors or if the new couple chooses, they can use them in their landscape.

When you are planning your wedding festivities, think hard about the kinds of alcoholic beverages that are going to be available, and also how much of a price tag they will carry. Keeping an open bar doesn't come cheap, but keeping it open for an extended time can be even more costly. The venue representative will be able to advise you of the various alcohol service options available.

You possibly want to think about fusing two or multiple menus together making the food available diverse and comfortable for everyone present. Make the menu unique by adding ethnic desserts, beverages and wedding favors that are edible.

You save large amounts of money by purchasing your wedding dress online. However, it is crucial that you do it far in advance, should it need any alterations. Sometimes a gown can cost as little as a hundred dollars; however, you might spend twice that amount to have it altered to fit. Don't forget to add this additional cost into your budget!

If you choose a wedding cake full of vibrant color that stands out as a focal point in your reception, you can enhance it further by presenting it on top of a fabric swatch coordinated with the cake itself. Good options include designer prints, novelty fabrics or special occasion fabrics like satin, velvet or silk.

Your wedding has the potential to highlight the best parts of your personality, but if the wedding doesn't go well, it could very well highlight the worst parts, instead. Avoid any potential wedding collapse, by using the information you learned in this article, to your advantage.
